HS Nurse's Stations

Possibly one of the most crucial locations in a hospital ward. Carella understands the importance of designing and manufacturing nurses' stations in close consultation with architects and their clients to create a multifunctional and attractive focal point.

Experience has made Carella aware of the varied services and technical equipment associated with the installation of nurses' stations. Not only allowing for cable management and services but also access for maintenance and upgrading, in addition incorporating other systems or mobile units within the space for documentation and storage.
